At the 1971 British Grand Prix most teams had, or were experimenting with taller airboxes amidst a lot of discussion regarding the legality of their height according to the rules. Team Surtees also fitted a large white airbox onto Surtees TS9/001, the car entered for John Surtees. He qualified 18th on the grid and finished the race in 6th position. This was also the last point scored by John Surtees in Grand Prix racing.
